

Table of Contents

Highlights of Trends 2007	3
Channels	3
The Grocery Trip	3
Meal Time	4
Nutrition	5
Food Safety	5
Introduction	9
The Consumer Outlook	10
The National Mood	10
The Glass Remains Half Empty	11
U.S. Economic Indicators	12
Population Trends	13
Store Formats and Features	18
Conventional Supermarkets' Share of Market Decreasing Slowly	18
All Stores Versus the Primary Store	20
Shopping Formats Explored	21
Factors Versus "The Factor" in Selecting the Primary Store	22
"Excellent Ratings Dropping for Important Features	25
Performance Ratings Highlight Opportunities for Improvement	26
Suggested Improvements Focus on Speed and Lower Prices	27
Price and Speed Key in Increasing Trip Frequency With Primary Store	28
Location Builds Secondary Store Use	29
Traditional Products and Services Most Popular With Shoppers	29
Online Shopping Still Lagging	31
Food Shopping Attitudes and Behavior	33
Shoppers Prefer Stock-Up Trip Over Fill-In Trip	33
Store Satisfaction Slowly Dropping	34
Shoppers Cut Back on Trips, Especially to Primary Store	35
Shoppers Increasingly Spend Across Different Store Formats	36
Specific Product Purchases Demonstrate Fragmented Marketplace	38
Cost-Saving Measures Pretrip and In the Store	42
For Most Price Is Primary Means of Comparison	42
Shoppers Try Hard to Save Money Pretrip and In the Store	43
The Effects of Energy Costs on Grocery Shopping	45
Meal Time and Meal Solutions	47
Interest in Meal Solutions Driven by Demographic Change	47
Ready-to-Eat Takeout Solutions Popular Among Shoppers	48
Growing Number of Americans Eat at Home	49

Defining a “Home-Cooked” Meal	50
Non-Fast Food Takeout Supermarkets’ Biggest Competitor	52
Ethnic Food Common in the Dinner Lineup	52
Retailers’ Role in Breakfast Sales Could Grow With Time-Saving Solutions	53
Value for Money and Nutritional Options Would Increase Lunch Traffic	54
Nutrition and Food Purchases.	57
Cook Your Way to Healthy	57
Eating at Home = Eating Healthier	58
Nutritional Concerns Rising – Concern Highest Among Upscale Shoppers	59
Nutritious Eating Overwhelmingly Own Responsibility.	60
Food Retailers Have Room for Growth as Nutrition Source	60
Fat Content Most Sought-After Ingredient on Nutrition Panel.	61
One-Fifth of Population on a Diet, Many More Incorporate Healthy Foods	63
Food Safety.	66
Consumer Confidence in Food Safety Drops Dramatically	66
Confidence in Restaurant Food Significantly Lower.	68
Television Most Important And Most Trusted Source for Food Safety Information.	69
Food Safety Largely Own Responsibility	70
Shoppers Recognize the Importance of Food Safety in the Home.	71
Shoppers Point at Bacteria and Germs as Most Important Health Risks	71
Food Science in the News.	72
Conclusion	75
Detailed Tables	77
1 Outlets Shopped for Groceries	78
2 Primary Store	78
3 Primary Supermarket, Supercenter and Warehouse Club Shoppers	79
4 Importance of Features When Selecting the Primary Store.	80
5 Importance of Features When Selecting the Primary Store, By Gender	81
6 Importance of Features When Selecting the Primary Store, By Age	82
7 Importance of Features When Selecting the Primary Store, By Household Size	83
8 Importance of Features When Selecting the Primary Store, By Residence	84
9 Importance of Features When Selecting the Primary Store, By Format	85
10 Overriding Factor for Primary Store Choice, By Generation	86
11 Performance Ratings of Features at the Primary Store	87
12 Performance Ratings of Features at the Primary Store, By Format	88
13 Suggested Improvements to the Primary Store	89
14 Insights Into Self-Checkout.	90
15 Factors That Would Increase Trip Frequency to the Secondary Store	91
16 Availability and Use of Departments and Services at Grocery Stores.	92
17 Availability of Departments and Services in Grocery Stores in 2005, 2006 and 2007.	93
18 Shoppers’ Like or Dislike of the Stock-Up and Fill-In Grocery Trips	94
19 Average Store Rating	95