

Table of Contents

Introduction	1
The Consumer and the Market Outlook	3
The National Mood — Where Do We Stand?	3
Cautious Consumers	4
U.S. Economic Indicators.....	6
Population Trends	7
Store Formats and Features	11
Shopping Decisions Growing Ever More Complex	11
The Market Continues to Shift.....	12
Continued Drop in Supermarket Share.....	14
Shopping Formats Explored.....	16
Full-Service Supermarkets Shoppers	16
Supercenter Shoppers	17
Warehouse Club Shoppers	18
Price Is The Overriding Factor, Quality and Cleanliness Remain Important.....	18
Price-Sensitive Shoppers — Not Just Low-Income Anymore.....	20
Satisfaction Ratings Rebound	21
Performance Ratings Highlight Opportunities for Improvement.....	22
Store Satisfaction Differs Greatly by Format	23
Speed and Price Key in Increasing Trip Frequency With Primary Store.....	25
Price Also Builds Secondary Store Trip Frequency	26
Fuel-Based Promotions Highly Successful	26
Online Shopping	29
Food Shopping Attitudes and Behaviors	31
Spending Increases Exceed Food Inflation.....	31
Income	32
Store Format	32
Region	32
Household Size	32
Age	33
Employment	33
Trip Frequency Remains Down; Shopping Dichotomy Grows	33
Primary Store Share Stable	34

Product Categories Demonstrate Fragmented Marketplace	35
Shades of Green	37
Shoppers Concerned That Ethanol Production Is Driving Up Food Prices	38
Cost-Saving Measures Pre-Trip and in the Store	41
Economic Pressures Cause Variety of Changes in Grocery Shopping.....	41
Price Is Primary Means of Comparison	42
Word of Mouth Reigns in New Product Purchases.....	45
Shoppers Seek Out Coupons and Specials.....	46
Frequent Shopper Programs	48
Stocking Up on Bargains	49
Coupon Users	49
Mealtime and Meal Solutions	50
Growing Number of Americans Eat at Home	50
Eating at Home = Eating Healthier.....	52
Eating at Home = Saving Money.....	53
Eating at Home = Family Mealtime	53
What’s for Dinner?	54
Non-Fast-Food Takeout Is Supermarket’s Biggest Competitor.....	56
Ready-to-Eat Takeout Solutions Popular Among Shoppers.....	57
Ethnic Food Common in the Dinner Lineup	58
Time-Saving Foods Key in Breakfast Meals	58
Value for Money and Nutritional Options Would Increase Lunch Traffic	59
Nutrition and Food Purchases	61
The Health and Wellness Imperative	61
Food Consumption Leaves Considerable Room for Improvement.....	62
Nutritious Eating Is Overwhelmingly Shoppers’ Own Responsibility	65
Food Retailers Have Room to Grow as Nutrition Source	66
Fat and Calories — Back to the Basics	66
Moderation, Not Obsession	68
Consumers and Food Safety.....	71
Consumer Confidence Rebounds; But Still Cautious.....	71
In Grocery Stores We Trust	73
Food Safety Issues Influence Purchasing Decisions.....	74
Shoppers Divide Food Safety Responsibility Among Many.....	75
Shoppers Most Wary of Food Processors and Manufacturers	75
Shoppers Recognize the Importance of Food Safety in the Home.....	76
Shoppers Point at Bacteria and Germs as Most Important Health Risks	77
Television Most Important and Most Trusted Source for Food Safety Information	77
Television Overwhelming Source for Food Recall Information	78
Consumer Actions Following Recalls.....	79
Comfort With Products of Cloned Animals	80
Detailed Tables	83
Methodology	138
Other FMI Resources.....	141