Products / Services:	Refrigeration
Company Description:	Founded in 1987 as a mechanical engineering firm, consulting to the refrigeration industry in Canada, USA, Australia and New Zealand. In 1998, the engineers at NDL recognized a need for more complete ACR copper fitting as new refrigerants emerged. The focus at NDL shifted from consulting to production, with the result being an elite ACR Copper fitting like no other in the industry. Today NDL is the industry leader when it comes to copper fittings and ball valves. Our products comply (and actually exceed) the industry standards. They are in use with CO2 systems in many supermarkets around the world. Specialties Refrigeration, CO2, HVAC, Hydronics, and Component Manufacturing
