FMI Breakfast at Anderson House
Friday, August 18, 2013
8:30am—11:00am

Guests embark on a morning of cultural delights in true Washingtonian fashion as they arrive at Anderson House, an architectural gem designed by Arthur Little and Herbert Browne of Boston as the winter residence of Larz Anderson III, an American diplomat, and his wife, Isabel Weld Perkins, an author and Red Cross volunteer. For more than thirty years, the couple enjoyed Anderson House as a showcase for their art collection, a backdrop for high society galas, and a home from which they explored what they considered "the most beautiful of American cities." Guests will enjoy exclusive touring of the residence, before seating for breakfast and a welcome chat with Deputy Director, Emily Schulz.

Afternoon in Alexandria
Friday, August 18, 2013
12:00pm-3:30pm

Heading out by mini-coach from the Ritz-Carlton, guests will have the opportunity to explore Old Town Alexandria, the famous Virginia port city along the Potomac, home to many of our Nation's founding fathers...alongside wonderful galleries, niche boutiques and delicious restaurants. Guests start with an orientation by a guide at the famous Torpedo Factory, where bombs were actually built in World War II. All will have the option of joining the guide led historic tour and learning about the area, or going shopping and enjoying the sites independently. Dining options will be suggested for lunch, as there are many wonderful options. The afternoon unfolds as guests please in a stunning Colonial town rich with experiences for all tastes!

Spouses who wish to receive information about future FMI Board spouse events may send their name and email address to Cidney McNeil at cmcneil@fmi.org.
